RODRIGO MATOS

For nineteen years, Rodrigo Matos was a Principle Rider with the Portuguese School of Equestrian Art and, during much of that time, he was a Senior Level Instructor at Morgado Lusitano. Rodrigo now travels throughout the year, giving clinics around the world, teaching horses of all breeds and riders of all levels, to work together in harmony.

HISTORY

Rodrigo began riding at an early age and his skills quickly became apparent to those who watched him communicate with horses. His training began at the Morgado Lusitano facility in Lisbon where he was schooled under the well known, Senhor

Nuno Palma.

When Rodrigo was 17 years old, a position at the Portuguese School of Equestrian Art became available and Rodrigo was selected to fill the position. His talents matured under the watchful eye of modern day masters and, after a few years, he became a Principle Rider at the School. With this esteemed position, Rodrigo became a Senior Level Instructor at Morgado Lusitano.

During his time at the Portuguese School of Equestrian Art, Rodrigo gained a wealth of experience training horses. He performed the most demanding high school airs, including capriole, levade and courbette. During the shows, Rodrigo also worked with the other riders as a part of a ten rider quadrille. In 2007, Rodrigo had the honor to perform with the Portuguese School of Equestrian Art in Paris for the first joint presentation of the four European Schools of Classical Dressage.

Today, Rodrigo is one of the most sought after clinicians throughout the world, travelling many months per year. Alongside his travels Rodrigo also works as a Senior Level Instructor at Morgado Lusitano in Portugal, to which international guests are welcomed to learn the art of classical dressage riding schoolmaster Lusitanos.

PHILOSOPHY Rodrigo Matos' philosophy is that all communication with horses is built upon passion, love and respect. He strives for lightness in riding and, through his thoughtful instruction, tries to build harmony between horse and rider.

"To see a horse and his rider in harmony is something very special."

Rodrigo does not want to rush the education of a horse, feeling that it is important to give the horse time to evolve at a comfortable pace.

"Having respect and love for horses means you need to allow time for the horse to evolve at his own pace in order that he can work with harmony, balance, lightness and impulsion. It is important to give horses the time for their minds to mature with confidence and their bodies to develop the strength and muscles. Don't be tempted to train too fast, always respect the horse."

Clinic with Rodrigo to be held on October 26th & 27th @ Hacienda del Valle in LakeView Terrace, CA. Contact Claudia Roberts @ 818/256-6080 to reserve your spot!
